How Parents Can Help

- ▶ 1. Writing.
- ▶ Encourage them to write at home: journals, letters, lists, stories, make non-fiction books.
- ▶ 2. Spelling.
- ▶ SACAWAC spellings daily (not spell them aloud), Purple Mash.
- ▶ 3. Handwriting.
- ▶ See teacher for home booklet.
- ▶ Concerns: see class teacher first (dojo), SENDCO (Mrs Lucas). Phonic catch up (Mrs Hardman).

English at BJS: How Parents Can Help

- ▶ 4. Speaking and Listening.
- ▶ National problem: pupils have less vocabulary and struggle to hold conversations. Covid. Partnership home & school.
- ▶ Talk and listen.
- ▶ Correct grammar (tenses).

HOW PARENTS CAN HELP

- ▶ SPEAKING AND LISTENING:
- ▶ Learning how to have conversations is important for children's development, relationships and wellbeing.
- ▶ Model good listening skills. Make time for this in your day. You may need to explain words that a child still does not know.
- ▶ Your child's vocabulary will be growing. Help them to understand new words they learn by talking about their meaning. Make sure they are not afraid to ask if they don't understand a word. Use a dictionary together.

- ▶ CONVERSATION SKILLS.
 - ▶ Conversation skills are about being able to talk and listen well:
 - ▶ starting conversations - for example, with a greeting like 'Hello' or a question
 - ▶ knowing how to get attention in the right way - for example, by saying 'Excuse me'
 - ▶ using eye contact
 - ▶ taking turns talking and listening
 - ▶ speaking politely
 - ▶ knowing when to stop talking.
 - ▶ Just by having good conversations with children, you are supporting their language. Ask them how their day at school was and how their friends are. Ask specific questions: What topics are you working on? What did you find out about in history today?

HOW PARENTS CAN HELP

5. Reading:

- ▶ Encourage them to read widely, read to your child, hear them read aloud (3X a week), ask questions (especially inference and discussing the meaning of words). Use the 2 bookmarks school has sent out (one includes relevant questions, the other is to sign to say you have heard them read aloud).
- ▶ Visit the library together (Burbage, Hinckley and our school library). Buy books as presents.
- ▶ Reading comprehension strategies: visualisation, questioning, summarising (“so basically...”), inference etc.
- ▶ Background knowledge important (talk, experiences out of school)
- ▶ Good readers need to read challenging books. Pie Corbett: “Deep reading inspires great writing.”
- ▶ Important to regularly hear your child read aloud, even if they appear to be confident readers. Activities to improve fluency.

ACTIVITIES FOR PARENTS TO IMPROVE READING FLUENCY

1. Repeated Reading

▶ All ages of children benefit from rereading texts to gain confidence and improve fluency.

2. Copy Reading

▶ This is where an adult models how to read a page of text with expression and fluency, paying attention to punctuation. Your child should then read the same text. You can discuss how punctuation affects how you read.

3. Echo Reading

► The adult reads a sentence and then your child reads it back to you in exactly the same way.

4. Reading Gym

► Set a timer for a minute and challenge your child to see how much they can read aloud in that time. Repeat this reading workout over time to see if they can beat their personal best.

Supporting Readers at Home

Open University research suggests there are three important ways to support readers and a love of reading.

Reading aloud to your children shows them reading is a pleasure, not a chore. Older children can read to younger ones too.

Making time to read alongside one another helps develop children's reading stamina and interest. Let them choose what to read and relax together.

Book Chats encourage readers. Invite them to make connections and share their views. Join in with your thoughts too!

Children who read, and are supported as readers, develop strong reading skills and do better at school.

A Guide to Book Chat

Research indicates that parents who regularly read with their children at home lay solid foundations for language and literacy development. It's a precious time for you both to relax, share your thoughts and feelings, have fun and chat together. Whilst sharing books, your child has your undivided attention, and the conversation, connection and enjoyment they experience is invaluable.

To promote children's pleasure in reading and foster the habit, we need to read to children and with them and to talk to them about books. These conversations are crucial as they help children to engage and think deeply.

There are several ways to prompt book chat, these are our Top Tips.

Watch and listen carefully to follow their interests

Observe and respond: Pay attention to what captures your child's attention and build on their interests, for example, 'Oh, you've spotted the...!'

Leave pauses: So they can look closely and think, this will lead to comments on the pictures or questions. Respond to their lead and let the book chat flow.

Invite your child to get involved

Pose questions: Open questions encourage thinking and discussion, such as, 'How do you think the boy is feeling?'. Try to avoid closed questions, such as 'What colour is that?'; these have a single answer and don't keep the conversation going.

Draw attention to illustrations: Encourage your child to notice details in the pictures and think what they might mean, for example, 'Look! What's that hiding, what do you think it might be?'

Wonder and connect to your lives

Ponder and wonder: Encourage your child to think about what might happen, using phrases such as, 'I wonder if/ whether /who/ why/ what ...'.

Make personal connections: Picture storybooks not only allow children to empathise with the experiences of fictional characters but enable them to make sense of events in their own lives. Talk about connections, for example, 'That reminds me of when...!'

Share your emotional responses!

Comment on your feelings: By sharing your emotional response to a character or something that's happened you encourage your child to do the same, helping them engage and learn to express their emotions.

Keep it light and enjoyable!

Your combined pleasure counts: Bring the story to life with facial expression, actions and sounds, encouraging your child to join in! Do offer information to help with unfamiliar words, such as 'That's the hencoop, it's where the hens live', but keep the focus on fun.
